Max Bögl honors its best trainees and students

A successful start to the new half-year of training: four outstanding junior employees at Max Bögl can look forward to receiving a trainee vehicle.

The young talents honored this half-year are Johannes Lehner (agricultural and construction machinery mechatronics technician), Dzenis Burnic (industrial mechanic), Matthias Mößler (industrial clerk) and Jakob Zipf (civil engineering student).

Due to their outstanding performance in their training, they were awarded a company vehicle, which they can use free of charge for six months - with no kilometer limit and including fuel or electricity. Associate Johann Bögl personally passed the vehicles on to the young talents.

The award winners were selected on the basis of objective criteria, including intermediate examination results, school grades and assessments from the specialist departments. This comprehensive assessment ensures that the vehicles are awarded to junior employees who are characterized by outstanding performance, commitment and motivation.

With this initiative, Max Bögl is sending out a clear signal in favor of promoting young talent and appreciating outstanding performance. The trainee vehicles not only serve as recognition, but also as a practical tool for the professional and personal development of junior staff.
